Winterer's Gathering & Arctic Film Festival

November 18-21, 2010

The North House Folk School, an educational non-profit organization located in Grand Marais, Minnesota, USA, is now accepting film screening nominations for the Winterer's Gathering & Arctic Film Festival. This multi-day educational event is a celebration of the crafts, customs, landscape, history and stories of winter travel and traditional lifeways in the north. Winter travel enthusiasts and northern culture admirers converge on the North House campus for four days of winter travel seminars, courses and workshops complemented by a number of inspiring and thought-provoking international films about life in the arctic.

The aim of the Arctic Film Festival is to celebrate the traditions, customs and lifeways in the circumpolar global arctic region represented in the media arts. The nomination process for Arctic Film Festival seeks to establish a network of arctic enthusiasts, organizations, businesses and film makers interested in arctic education, travel, history, art and culture. Connecting the film audience to the film makers to the educators promoting the films is a key element of the Arctic Film Festival.

The Arctic Film Festival is a non-competitive, non-cash awarding festival. An independent committee reviews films and screening selections will be based upon distributor's consent and the overall content as it relates to the category in which it was nominated.

As a non-profit educational organization and in respect to the non-competitive educational atmosphere North House wishes to instill, the film festival aspires to screen up to eight films related to the following categories:

Environment – This category includes films that reflect on the arctic natural environment.

Ethno-Historical – Films that reflect on the cultural landscape of the arctic region and the peoples who inhabit that region.

Expedition – Films that relate to adventure travel expeditions.

Shelter, Clothing, Food – Films that specifically address traditional arctic shelter, clothing and foodways.

As part of the nominating process, individuals and/or your organizations are asked to:

1. Nominate up to three films to be shown at the festival.
2. Provide information about your organization or agency as it relates to the films nominated.
3. Provide source information for obtaining the film, including key contacts such as director, filmmakers, producers, etc for screening rights and distribution
4. If available, provide film information that includes availability of film, length of film, format of film (35mm, DVD, video cassette, etc.) and a brief summary of the film.
5. Submit film nominations no later than October 1, 2010 using enclosed film nomination form. Fax, e-mail, or direct mail is acceptable.

If you or your organization have any questions regarding the Winterer's Gathering & Arctic Film Festival, or specific questions related to the Film Festival, please contact Program Director, Jessa Frost, at North House Folk School. You do not need to be in attendance for your nomination to be considered. Nominations will be considered by an independent committee by October 30, 2010 and screened during the Festival dates.
